

Weekly Update

Creating a Resilient Mindset – May 5, 2025

PIT's transformation enhances the resiliency of our airport, ensuring the dependability and adaptability we have been building for our passengers, partners and team members over the past ten years.

We are committed to serving a Pittsburgh region on the rise – one that showcases an innovation economy that drives technology, business, healthcare and scientific travel, connecting our region with the world.

Nearing 90 percent completion, the transformed PIT terminal, roadway system, parking complex and airside modernizations are purpose built to be resilient now and well into the future, opening PIT to even more opportunity for growth, change and the innovation for which we are known globally.

The transformed PIT arrives this fall.