

Weekly Update

Setting an Example – March 24, 2025

The new Pittsburgh International Airport provides a needed upgrade for facilities across the campus that will improve the passenger experience. But the construction of the program has turned some heads in the industry and is setting an example of how building a project of this scale can be done in an innovative way.

Click here to read the full story on PIT's innovation in construction on Blue Sky News.